Description

The SRA series top case fitting system sports a water-jet cut aluminum plate which promotes not only good looks but a lower profile for the case when it is attached. Originally designed with the adventure touring market in mind, these lightweight kits have become options to a more diverse range of motorcycles and scooters and despite thier rugged looks well as easy to maintain. The SR685 is designed to work with Monokey cases only and still allows access to the tool compartment. All parts needed to mount the top case hardware are included and it installs using simple hand tools.

Note: Does not allow installation of a stop light kit or remote-control opening device.
